

Civic Society to hold D-Day walking tour in Goole

Local residents are invited to take part in a walking tour to learn more about Goole's connections to D-Day.

Goole's Secret Contribution to D-Day - A Walking Tour will explore Goole Docks and how the port was used to produce secret military infrastructure for supplying the D-Day Beaches and how they were used to distribute military hardware.

Taking place on Sunday, June 9 from 1.30-3.30pm, the walk will set off from the Lowther Hotel on Aire Street where on street parking is available.

There is only 20 spaces available on the walking tour so booking is essential.

Spaces can be booked by contacting Goole Civic Society at goolecivicsociety@gmail.com or 07867547932.

The walking tour will include Goole Docks, which includes walking over a lock-gate with an inclined ramp and steps. Attendees will need to consider these conditions before attending.

Goole Civic Society is hosting a walking tour of locations in Goole which were connected to D-Day. (02-05-133 SU) (02-05-135 SU)

Court date set for Goole man

A Goole man is due to appear in court later this month charged with threatening a person with an offensive weapon.

Martin Whittaker, of Eastgate, is due to appear at Hull Magistrates' Court on May 31 charged with threatening a man with a knife in a private place during an incident on November 29.

The 59-year-old was remanded on unconditional bail following a hearing on April 17, and is due to appear for sentencing later this month.

Police band to visit Goole

The Humberside Police Concert Band will perform in a Spring Concert in Goole.

The event will take place at 7.30pm on Saturday, May 11 at Central Church on North Street.

Tickets are priced at £7 and are available from Mary Armitage on 07799 003213, or Eileen Bell on 07938 013926.

Refreshments will be served during the interval and there will also be a raffle.

All welcome.
